Work Placement Journals

For Certificate III & Diploma Early Childhood Education & Care

The journal helps students record all the details of their work placements in one handy document and provides tables in which they can jot down what they have learnt.

It aids in fostering the important skill of self-reflection, a major focus of the updated qualifications and one that is difficult to teach.

The journal focusses on three main areas:

- Professional skills and links these to the key areas that form the foundation of both qualifications, such as children's health and safety and relationships with children.
- Personal skills valued by employers, such as communication, teamwork and leadership.
- It pulls professional and personal skills together in a sample resumé that demonstrates how they are connected in a well-rounded, industry-ready candidate.
